MODERN SLAVERY POLICY PRINCIPLES

Modern slavery is a crime and violation of fundamental human rights. It takes various forms, such as slavery, servitude, forced labour, compulsory labour and human trafficking, all of which have in common the deprivation of a person's liberty by another in order to exploit them for personal or commercial gain.

Zero Tolerance Approach

We are working towards elimination of Modern Slavery within our work-place and the wider food industry. We are committed to act with integrity in all our business dealing and relationships as well as implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure that modern slavery is not taking place within our business and also our supply chains.

Transparency within our Business

We are also committed to ensuring there is full transparency within our business and that our approach to tackling modern slavery in our supply chains is consistent with our disclosure obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

We will take measures to ensure that the same high standards are maintained by all of our contractors, suppliers, labour providers and other business partners. As part of our contracting process we include specific provisions around forced and compulsory labour and we expect our suppliers will in turn hold their suppliers to the same high standards. We also reserve the right to audit our supplier's processes and procedures to ensure compliance.

This policy applies to all persons working for us or on our behalf in any capacity, including all employees at any level, directors, agency workers, seconded workers, interns, agents, contractors, external consultants and business partners. This policy does not form part of any employee's contract of employment and may be amended at any time.
